

Kearns Says His Job Is About Pau

Ralph A. Kearns, director of the Territorial Immigration Station, spent several days on Maui this week looking into the condition of the European laborers on the various plantations and elsewhere. Kearns has recently been on Hawaii on the same mission, which is to get a comprehensive idea of the results of the immigration work carried on by the territory in recent years. The Spanish and Portuguese, which form the bulk of the immigrants in which the Territorial bureau is interested, are getting along very well, according to Mr. Kearns, and none of the grievances which he has found have been of more than trivial character.

On the Maui plantations, particularly, Mr. Kearns says that the Spanish and Portuguese seem to be doing well and to be generally well satisfied. On Paumotu he found a considerable number of families who have been continuously at the same place since their arrival in the Islands five or six years ago. They have, in most instances developed their house lots in a very pleasing manner, and their camps present a very different appearance than they did originally when they were new and in most instances were utterly devoid of vegetation. One woman told him that she had been in the same house ever since she came, and that she proposed staying there until the house burned or fell down.

On some of the Hawaii plantations, the stress of hard times as well as unfavorable weather conditions had compelled the managers to reduce the working time by one or two days per week, but there has been none of this on this island. There are now very few Russians on plantations at present, Mr. Kearns says.

Mr. Kearns admits that he is not optimistic as to the future of immigration work in the islands. In fact it seems very probable that the next legislature will abolish the bureau entirely. Recent figures indicate that the cost of every male European immigrant in the Territory has been $766.90. This big cost is due to the fact that about 64 per cent. of the assisted immigrants brought here between 1905 and 1914 failed to remain, but continued on to the mainland for the most part to help boost a California's population. During the period mentioned 17,359 men, women and children had their expenses paid to Hawaii, and of these 11,083 have left. The total cost of bringing these people here has been $1,226,976.48. Immigration work was stopped some months ago, and it does not seem likely that it will be resumed.

Paia Boosts Water Report

The Makawao Waterworks, according to a report made to the Board of Supervisors by County Auditor Chas. Wilcox, is furnishing water to 214 different privilege holders. These are distributed as follows: Kula section, Omaopio to Kamaole, 100; Ulupalakua section, 15; Olinda and Makawao section, 41; Paia section, 58. Of these 108 pay by meter at the rate of 25 cents per 1,000 gallons, and 106, including the 58 Paia privileges, pay a flat rate of 50 cents per month each.

Water rates charged on the books for the period January 1st to March 31st, amounted to $908.60. Of this amount $655.22 had been paid in by 152 privilege holders; while $253.38 is delinquent from 62 subscribers.

Changes In Pineapple Company

The Maui Pineapple Company, which has a cannery at Pauwela, inaugurated a number of changes in its management on May 1st. A. F. Tavares has been made manager of the company in place of S. Yoshimasu, who, it is understood has been asked to remain with the company as superintendent of the factory. The Company has also changed its fiscal agency from the First National Bank to the Baldwin National Bank.

It is understood that the Japanese who control the cannery have been able to secure additional financial backing through which means it has been possible to pay off certain outstanding obligations. The pack of the cannery last year was about 46,000 cases, and it is expected to pack between 90,000 and 100,000 cases the present season.

Stole Bride Money and Glad Rags

For stealing another man's bride-to-be, as well as all his Sunday clothes and $35 in cash, Heneroso Pontamilla, a Filipino, was on Tuesday sentenced to six months in jail on charge of adultery. He must also answer to the charge of larceny.

Pontamilla, who is a married man, recently left his wife on Hawaii and came to Paumotu. Here he met Malacella Castro, a Filipino beauty, who was about to wed to a laborer on the plantation. The license had been procured, when the new arrival persuaded her to run away with him. They were caught at Haiku. The woman was sentenced to three months in jail on her plea of guilty.

Island Produce Wanted

A. T. Longley, superintendent of the Territorial Marketing Division, Honolulu, has the following to say concerning the demand for various island products:

"The demand for most articles is in excess of the supply. The market desires more cooking bananas, Chinese bananas, watermelons, sweet potatoes, hams, island oranges, corn, dry beans, green peas, string beans, sweet corn and eggs. The price of eggs is firm, but the supply is quite inadequate. An additional 500 dozen a week is needed and also 100 additional dozen of duck eggs. The market is almost bare of beans and corn, both dry and green, and demand for these products, especially for dry beans and green peas, string beans and sweet corn, is active. More carrots, beets and turnips are also wanted, as well as papayas. The supply of these products is quite regular but not large enough.

"The supply of chickens is steady, but fowls moved rather slowly during the past week. Most fowls received at the market are not fat enough. The supply of ducks is increasing but the demand is firm and price has not fallen. Turkeys stand at the same price as prevailed in the previous week and the supply is about equal to the demand. Fewer calls are made for hogs and the price has fallen slightly, due to shipments from California. The price of onions is likewise on the down-grade on account of shipments from Australia. Watermelons are supplied spasmodically; too many at a time. Quality is rather poor and price falling. The call for cabbage has increased and price is a little better. The demand for potatoes is slightly falling off. Sweet potatoes hold their own and a little more, while Irish potatoes are falling slightly due in part to poor keeping qualities.

"Besides the usual consignments, shipments of beef, pigs, lathala matting material and awa root are expected next week. Lettuce and radishes arrive from the other islands in bad condition. Until better methods of shipment are worked out, it is best not to send these products."

PUZZLED THE DRIVER.

Now He Believes the Policeman Is a Real Mind Reader.

A certain truckman in the habit of using the new Manhattan bridge on his morning trip to Brooklyn has abandoned that route because of superstition.

Several days ago while the truckman was taking a load of chicken crates to Brooklyn a fine cap flopped down before him just as his team had passed under the Manhattan tower. He looked around, and seeing that none of the teamsters ahead of him or behind him was bareheaded, he picked up the cap and put it under the cushion of his seat.

Now, it chanced that the cap had been blown from the head of one of the engineers of the bridge department who was high up in the tower at the time. On reaching the tower base he called up the policeman at the Brooklyn approach on the telephone, described the teamster and his wagon and told how he had lost his cap.

As the long file of trucks passed by the policeman the latter halted the thieving driver, saying: "I'll trouble you to hand over that cap you picked up on the Manhattan side. It's a black and white check, and you've got it right there under your seat." Amazed and frightened at the cop's demand, the driver pulled out his hidden find and tossed it to him. "Here you are," he said. "You're a mind reader or one of them guys what can see around corners."—New York Tribune.

MASSENET'S HOBBY.

A Story of the Composer and His Dear Friend, the Bookbinder.

In the recollections of Massenet a story is told, says the Hamburger Nachrichten, illustrating the composer's passionate admiration for beautiful bindings. Not a week passed without a visit from him to his bookbinder when he brought a new book or a new edition to be bound. In the course of time he and his bookbinder became the best of friends, and when Massenet arrived the talk was at first of everything on earth except the real object of his visit.

"Look here!" Massenet would say eventually, giving the man the volume to be bound.

"Splendid!" replied the bookbinder, and then for his customer and friend he would devise some fresh wonder in the art of binding.

One morning Massenet suddenly learned that his friend was giving up business. He hurried to his shop. "Heavens! Is it true you are leaving Paris?" he asked.

"Why, certainly! I have bought a charming little country house near Nantes."

"What! A country house! And in the provinces!" And he added sadly, "Ah, my poor friend, I am partly responsible for that!"
